

A rain and snow storm, now raging over the Middle West, is moving eastward and is scheduled to hit the Atlantic coast sometime to-morrow.

Storm signals have been given out by the weather bureau along the Atlantic coast, and seamen to prepare for a rough voyage.

The storm now is blowing a very strong wind.

SHOT HERSELF WHEN FARMER HUSBAND WEDS

Friends Declare Mrs. Peabody's
Tragic Death Due to Unhappy Marriage.

HER RELATIVES SHOCKED

The wife of the late John Peabody, who was shot to death in Westchester street, New York, was a woman of unusual beauty and intelligence. She was a native of New York, and her husband was a native of New York. They were married in 1880, and had three children. The husband was a farmer, and the wife was a housewife. They were both very kind and generous people, and were much loved by their friends and neighbors.

Had Every Reason to Live.

NOT BURNED TO DEATH IN OAK ISLAND FIRE

Mr. Harry B. Russell, who was reported burned to death in the steamship fire at Oak Island a few days ago, is now said not to have been there at the time.

For some days previous to the fire he had been visiting the ship who ran the shooting gallery, but the name of the ship was not known. It was also reported that he was with his wife. She was not of his family.

With his weight in mind
he was not of his family. He was not of his family.

CARES FOR OLD WOMAN HORSES

Many Animals Saved From Cold, Starvation and Pain at Red Acre Farm.

CHARITY IN NEED OF HELP

EDITOR BOSTON AMERICAN:—I wish to call the attention of your readers to the fact that the Red Acre Farm, the charitable home for horses, at Brown's twenty-five miles from Boston. The farm receives and cares for old worn-out and disabled horses, especially at this time of year, when the weather is so cold and the horses are suffering from starvation and cold. The farm is also a place of refuge for the poor and the sick, and the work of the farm is being done by a few men, who are doing their best to keep the horses from suffering. The farm is in need of help, and I hope that you will be able to help it in some way.

CADE DECAPUR DENIES HAZING

Midshipman on Trial for Inhibition of Naval Academy Plebes Declares Charges All False.

COURT-MARTIAL NEAR END

ANAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 3.—Midshipman Cade Decapur, of Portsmouth, N. H., on trial for hazing James M. McCarry, of Texas, and Gaylord Child, of Connecticut, has today denied the charges made against him. He said in the stand that he had never hazed either of the men, and did not even know McCarry before he saw him in court. The court-martial brought from Decapur a statement that he had ordered a charge to be run to his room, and that some one had taken the uniforms from the plebes. The court-martial also brought from Decapur a statement that he had ordered a charge to be run to his room, and that some one had taken the uniforms from the plebes. HOW SOCIETY GIRLS MAY AVOID STAGE MAKEUP DEVICES

SOCIETY women, who are judiciously accurate in the choice of nature by the face in this world are so lovely that they can not be made better.

The deep seated reputation among the use of cosmetics is fast disappearing. A dust of powder, a hint of rouge, a shadow beneath the eye, may change a woman's entire appearance and place her in the beauty class even after she has been used all her previous existence to being called plain.

Miss Katherine Gilman, who plays the leading feminine role in "Just Out of College," at the Park Theatre, believes sincerely in the adaptation of make-up by the society woman.

By Katherine Gilman.
Do I believe in make-up? Yes, properly applied. It softens features and brings out good points. By a clever use of the make-up, a good-looking woman may be made into a positive beauty, and a homely woman may become good-looking. But, badly applied, make-up is a serious, indeed it is impossible. Let us begin with the hair. Women, who neglect the hair, it is wrong. A woman's hair is in truth her crowning glory. It should be plenty of length, well arranged, and it is necessary. But occasionally, in addition to this, one's appearance can be improved by retouching the hair, to take out its tangles or restore its faded color.

Blonde hair, peroxide of hydrogen, possibly applied with a tooth brush, will restore its color. There are also tonics for dark tresses, which are available and may be used in the same way. I believe in a generous use of pure cold cream. All electrical serums, and hair oils, with its use, cosmetics preserve and improve the skin rather than improve it.

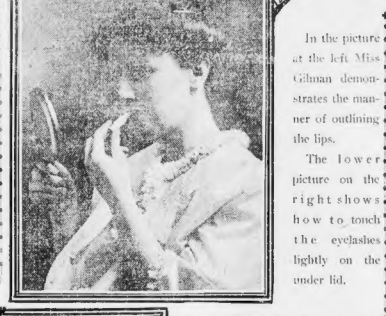

As to your make-up, whether for the stage or the drawing room, start with the complexion of cold cream. First apply the rouge. The simplest dry rouge is best. Then dust with white powder, and shade it artistically, using it with a brush.

Then touch up the lips. For this purpose, I use the lip lining pencil. Next comes the powder. The purest powder is best, and you can get your complexion as to shade, pink or white, as you desire. I prefer white. Dust it over the face softly and lightly with a powder brush. Then work it carefully into the skin, blending it with the rouge, and softening the effect of fatness and coloring.

It is not necessary to advertise art to the entire world. For the eyebrows, use a pencil which may be purchased in any shop dealing in toilet articles. Get brown or black as you prefer, and just touch the lashes on the under lid, slightly. Brushing the brows, regularly each night and morning with a soft brush will give them a natural look.

After the make-up, the use of the brush on the eyebrows is in necessity. It removes all powder and seems to increase the effect of complementation. And, lastly, don't try to make-up in a hurry. It takes time and a strong light.

Keep the Arms Smooth and White

By the Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: Please tell me of something that will remove the electric smudge. Freckles and sunspots are annoying, say one at night and the other in the morning, will help more than anything else. Is not any anything like the pimple smudge, simply looks of the face, as they will grow again, seemly stronger than before. Do not expose your arms to the action of sunspots and cold air, more than you can help, as nature takes revenge by furnishing the covering which you are so desirous to have.

THERE is no way positively to remove the electric smudge. Freckles and sunspots are annoying, say one at night and the other in the morning, will help more than anything else. Wrinkles; Have Red Cheeks

By the Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: Will you please tell me what to do with my cheeks, are falling in and I am getting wrinkles. ANNE.

AFTER opening the pores of the face by means of hot water applications, massage with a good skin food, be careful to have the motion rotary and gentle. Alternate the rotary motion with a quick little clapping until the blood has come to the surface. Massage the wrinkles, however, as the rotary motion serves only to accentuate them. After about twenty minutes of this treatment every night, bathe the face well in cold water and dry gently. If the wrinkles are not deep they can be entirely removed by putting them up with paper wet with the white of an egg. Smooth out the wrinkles at night after treating them, and press the skin over them, thus keeping them as they are smooth while you sleep.

Try Common Sense if Other Remedies Fail

By Dorothy Dix

THERE is no greater misfortune than that the world should be so badly handed together by love, matrimony altogether and solely from a romantic and sentimental standpoint, when it is the one question which we should bring to bear the most good, hard, common sense.

We act precisely as if life ended, as a novel does, at the church door, and as if the happy couple wouldn't be clanking for breakfast and supper by the next morning.

WOMAN AS MAN'S GUARDIAN

THE regard for women in society depends very much upon the standard of morality she sets up, and in every circle there is a standard above which few men care to rise. It may be mortifying to a man's pride, but it is true that they seldom rise to the standard of morality which women set up.

IF YOU WERE CAPTAIN OF THIS SHIP, WHOM WOULD YOU SAVE?

Would You Give the Last Lifebelt to the Aged Woman, the Married Man or the Little Girl?
